

JUSTICE PHILLIPS TELLS WHY HE QUIT

EVANSVILLE OFFICER'S RESIGNATION HANDED IN.

Documents Are Presented to the Common Council, the Action Growing Out of the Austin-Spencer Case—No Free Silver For Footville Folk—County News.

Evansville, Aug. 10.—Evansville is much excited over the arrest of Nathaniel Austin, the assaulting of Dr. Spencer, and the resignation of Police Justice W. R. Phillips, who sent Austin to the Janesville jail for fifteen days. Dr. Spencer caused the arrest of Austin on the charge of fast driving and Austin pleaded guilty. Later Austin met Dr. Spencer and assaulted him. He was again arrested but this time Justice Phillips sentenced him for fifteen days in the county jail. Some of the citizens who felt that the sentence was too severe drew up a petition asking the governor to pardon the offender and circulating it produced something over one hundred and fifty signers. In view of this last movement Mr. Phillips felt that he could no longer serve in the capacity of police justice and sent his resignation to the common council. The document was as follows:

Says Court Is Powerless

Gentlemen: It is the high prerogative of the people of this city, to be faithfully represented by their officers, in their views, their sentiments and moral interests.

Believing that the police court of this city over which I have presided since its institution, is not performing its work as wished, by the expressed sentiment of the people; and being unable to see my duty clear in any other direction than that I have long pursued in my criminal work in your courts, to maintain myself in the position I long ago have taken in the conduct of these criminal cases, in short to maintain my manhood, which must be done, there is no way open to me now but to relieve you of further representation.

My aim and effort all these years has been to so maintain the dignity of the law as that your lives and property should be protected, that society should find order, and that sympathy in your courts and Evansville be better because of them.

Recent occurrences indicate unmistakably to me that I am wrong in my idea of the object of your criminal court.

There are so many opposite forces brought to bear to make your police court of any effect or value in this city, its judgments since it became powerless and on no pretext of law, criminals are turned loose on the streets of the county seat, the jailor has himself done this without the decree of any court. And knowing these things as I do, I most respectfully hereby tender you my resignation as police justice and ask that I be immediately relieved.

It is not without regret that I take this step. Many years I have struggled (often in vain) and abuse) to uphold the right and defeat the wrong, and it would indeed pain me to know that this policy was not to be continued.

Mistakes have probably been made, but I assure you they were of the head and not the heart. If during my long administration, an injury has been worked to this community, it is high time a change was made, and I retire to make way for some more capable person.

Pardon me, but may I suggest that in your appointment, you select an honest man, and further that when you have done you will assist him by the moral backing of the council.

A disheartened man cannot serve you to any degree of satisfaction. Respectfully submitted, W. R. PHILLIPS, Police Justice.

Makes Some Suggestions

To the people of Evansville—I fear that another opportunity may not be afforded me in this connection to say to you what I think you ought to know and know absolutely and beyond doubt.

After years of official association with your chief of police and scrutinizing with a jealous eye his almost every act, I am prepared to say that this community is safe under his charge. That element (which exists in all places) whose mission it is to battle the officers on all occasions should never draw to itself any strength in its purposes from good citizenship. Do not array yourselves against your courts and police without first carefully investigating the cause and motive of their action. Your home, lives and property are in their hands and they will defend you just so far as you make it possible for them to do so.

Should you wish to handicap an officer, do it at the polls, but never after he has taken the oath of office; rally to his support, and may he never have occasion to feel that his constituents are more unruly than the culprit he is paid to suppress.

During my experience with you in this work there have been some "tugs of war," times when steady, honest effort for the right was needed, and when moral grit and courage seemed to be at a premium, but we came through successfully, and today my successor may enter on his work with some of the obstacles removed that I have contended with; he will be largely to you what you make him; make him know that his labors are appreciated, and that there is at his disposition a solid phalanx of moral sentiment, character and honor. Hoping you may accept this, offered with kind intent, I am yours for law and order. W. R. PHILLIPS.

The Council's Proceedings.

The council's session was a busy one. Under the head of unfinished business, came up the motion of Mr. Tattle, made at preceding meeting, to instruct the street committee to view the premises and estimate the costs, in accordance with petition signed by W. H. Doolittle and others asking that Second street from the Park to Liberty street, be graded according to established grade. This motion was lost on a tie. Tuttle, Snashall and Frantz voting aye and Hubbard, Baker and Campbell voting no, and upon motion of Mr. Campbell action was deferred until the following Friday. The committee on finance reported the following bills and instructed the clerk to draw and issue orders for the same.

W. R. Phillips, clerk's salary.....	$ 39.75

Upon motion of Mr. Baker the report was unanimously adopted.

NO FREE SILVER FOR FOOTVILLE

No Converts Made by Free Coinage Speaker—Other News.

treated to a free silver speech last Friday although no converts were made by the kind of doctrine and oratory that we were treated to. Every republican as well as every democrat should wear a McKinley badge. Our merchants keep them. On Wednesday night there arrived at the home of Henry Pepper, a fine baby girl, mother and daughter doing nicely. The proud father smiles as he passes around the cigars to his friends. A heavy rain storm went over this section of the country Sunday morning but did no damage except blowing down a windmill here and there. Threshing is now the order of the day although the weather is very hot for that kind of work. The yield of potatoes is very light here this year, being of small size. Fall pasture is doing well. F. P. Wells has put up a fine new sign in front of his hotel. Mrs. John Devins had a narrow escape in a tip-over while coming home from Janesville on Friday last, but escaped with a few bruises. The Epworth League will hold an ice cream and cake social at the home of Charles Richards, Friday evening. Aden Ross is visiting his brother, William Ross, for a few days. Mrs. Vesper serves Shurtleff's ice cream to all those who desire it, and is doing a good business this hot weather. The missionary society at Henry Richards' was largely attended on Friday. The ladies are engaged in making infants' clothing, to send to the sanitarium at Chicago. Mrs. Webb Owen has been very ill the past week but is now improving. A number passed through here Sunday on their way to Hanover to play base ball. Acheson and Snyder, and Strang sell corn binders of the latest pattern. F. M. Dann has done quite a business in selling German carp this summer. John Drafahl has the largest straw pile we have seen for some time. Some of the tobacco growers are beginning to shed tobacco this week. Miss Fannie Boyd returned to her home at Eldora, Iowa, on Monday. Henry Stevens is now ready to supply his customers with a superior grade of coal at reasonable prices. Our grain market is stagnant here these democratic times. The band boys rehearse every Saturday night at the red warehouse. The amount of milk begins to increase at the factory since the rains have started up the pastures again. Wright Brothers have a sister from Iowa visiting them for a few weeks. A lively game of cricket was played at Fred Honeysetts on Saturday. John Fox finds it warm work carrying the mail this weather, but should be complimented on for punctuality. There are some fine pieces of tobacco in this vicinity, and if the weather is favorable the product will be better than usual.

BELOIT SALOONIST ACQUITTED.

Jay Sitter Did Not Sell Liquor to a Drunken Man—Line City News.

Beloit, Aug. 18.—Jay Sitter was acquitted yesterday on his second trial on the charge of selling liquor to a drunken man. The jury got the case about six o'clock and soon returned a verdict of acquittal. As in the previous case, the attorney for the defense, Mr. Menzie argued that conviction in that court would be almost certain to cause defendant to lose his license which was an excessive penalty even if he was guilty. The question of Murray's intoxication he also claimed was not made clear.

The case has attracted much interest through people's sympathy for Mrs. Murray, the complaining witness, and a number of W. C. T. U. ladies were present through the entire proceedings, notwithstanding the intense heat and oppressive condition of the court room.

The case like many other "whiskey" cases was unique in as much as Peter Murray himself swore that he was intoxicated when he bought the liquor in question, his wife said he was drunk, and policemen testified the same. But the jury didn't see it that way.

Two Aged People Hurt.

Beloit, Aug. 10.—John Crouse, an elderly farmer, well known in this city, fell from his wagon and dislocated his collar bone. He was attended by Dr. Bennett and is as comfortable today as can be expected under the circumstances.

Beloit, Aug. 10.—Mrs. Ames, the aged mother of Mrs. John Dunbar, had the serious misfortune to slip on the stairs recently and break one of her hip bones. Dr. Bell is attending her.

Paving Contract Let.

Beloit, Aug. 8.—[Special]—Beloit will pave its business streets and will begin at once, the contract for paving being let to A. E. Rutledge & Co., of Rockford. The pavement is the coarsest of macadam with eight foot brick gutters on each side. Work will be begun at once.

MOVE WATER WORKS OFFICE.

Will Locate in One of the Stores in the New Kent Block.

The Janesville Water Company will soon be in new quarters. September 1 will find the office of that corporation located in the south store in the new Kent block, on South Main street. The other store will be occupied, it is said, by Green & Allen, the plumbers, who are now located on the bridge.

LLOYD FOUND DEAD BY THE NEIGHBORS

AGED BACHELOR PASSES AWAY WHILE ALONE.

Had Resided on His Farm Near Emerald Grove For Many Years—Disappointment in Love Made Him a Recluse—Was One of the County Pioneers.

Henry Lloyd, a bachelor, who has lived alone in his cozy farm house between this city and Emerald Grove since 1845, was found dead in his bed Sunday morning.

His life story is a romantic one, the cause of Lloyd's peculiar ideas, such as the refusal to allow a woman to enter his home, and the renting of a church pew with the proviso that no woman should be allowed to sit in it; being the result of a disappointment in love.

Lloyd lived five and one-half miles from this city on the Emerald Grove road. His farm house was painted snowy white and looked cozy and neat. Everything about the farm indicated the thrift of the owner. Fine cattle browsed in the pastures, grain flourished on the broad acres, and fine horses were quartered in his barn. Six fancy bred equines were kept for driving, while other animals were used to do the farm work.

Didn't Come For His Milk.

Mr. Lloyd had been in the habit of calling at the home of John Little, whose farm adjoins the Lloyd place, for milk. Sunday morning he did not come, and as the hours passed, Mr. Little decided to visit the Lloyd home. When he reached the bachelors' residence, he rapped on the door, but got no response. Then he looked in a window.

He could see Lloyd's bed from the casement, and discerned the form of the owner of the place, lying thereon. Thinking that perhaps Mr. Lloyd was dead, Mr. Little drove to Emerald Grove and got George Turck, who was in church.

Coroner's Jury Called.

Little and Turck then returned to the Lloyd home, but decided to summon a justice of the peace before entering the house. Justice Stanley Joiner was accordingly notified and he at once summoned a coroner's jury. A messenger was sent to this city for Dr. W. H. Judd. The doctor made an examination and said that Mr. Lloyd had died of heart failure and old age.

Mr. Lloyd was eighty-three years of age. Mrs. S. S. Higbee, of this city, is his niece, and he leaves three brothers, one in Connecticut, one in New York and one in Montana. His farm consisted of about 80 acres of fine land. For some time he resided in a small residence but a few years ago, built a much more comfortable dwelling.

THE STORY OF LLOYD'S LIFE.

Disappointment in Love Caused Him To Become a Recluse.

The story of Mr. Lloyd's life is a romantic one. In 1845 he came to Wisconsin from New York state, with his brother, William. They took up government land, and settled on their new possessions to "grow up with the country." A girl came from New York, the story, as an old settler told it to a Gazette reporter this morning goes, to visit William Lloyd. Henry fell in love with this young lady, but never confessed his feelings to her. After her return to New York, he decided to go east, and ask her hand in marriage. He made the trip, but on his arrival at the city in which the woman lived, learned that she had married another man the day before his arrival.

Then Became a Recluse.

Lloyd then returned to Wisconsin, apparently broken hearted, and since that time, he had avoided female society. No woman had ever crossed his threshold up to the time of his death, and when he rented a pew in the Congregational church, at Emerald Grove, it was with the explicit understanding that no woman should ever enter it. His life was one of strict retirement, and he had little to say or do with anyone. His stock, especially his horses, were his chief companions. He was an admirer of fine horses, and when he came to Janesville, the tall thin man, and his handsome teams, always attracted much attention.

The funeral was held at 4 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. G. Hammond, of Emerald Grove, officiating.

CYCLERS WALKED IN THE MUD

Quartette from This City Had a Hard Time Yesterday.

Four members of the Arrow Cycling club left the city yesterday morning at 6 o'clock, for Delavan Lake, but after reaching Emerald Grove, they were overtaken by the storm, and found shelter in the church, where they remained for two hours, the guests of the Rev. G. Hammond, who entertained the young men with a bread and milk breakfast. They then decided to return home; and for five long and weary miles, those four young men walked and pushed their wheels through mud. When they reached sandy roads they were able to ride the last three miles.

E. V. Whit, Jr., and Edwin Halverson spent Sunday at Lauderdale Lake.

JANESVILLE Light Infantry drill.

SERVICES AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. Hodge Preached in the Morning—Union Evening Service.

Dr. Hodge occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church yesterday morning; at the close of the service the ordinance of baptism was administered. Rev. R. K. Manston addressed the union meeting of the First M. E. and Baptist churches in the evening, taking as his text Acts 1:8. In the course of his sermon he showed that only the power from on high can have permanent influence with men. In spite of the heat the house was well filled.

"The Conquest of Temptation" was the topic of the Endeavor meeting, led by Grace Tenant.

The Ladies Aid Society will meet in the church parlors Friday afternoon.

The Executive committee of the local union of young people's societies will meet at the Y. M. C. A. building Tuesday evening, at 7:45.

A. G. PADDOCK DIES AT BATTLE CREEK

FORMER JANESVILLE MAN IS NO MORE.

Vain Search For Relief Finally Ends In Peace From Earthly Cares—D. J. Concannon to Be Laid to Rest At Denver—Deaths in the County.

A. G. Paddock died at his home at Battle Creek, Michigan, on Friday last. Janesville friends having been notified of his demise, by a letter from Mrs. Paddock. The letter was received by Jennie Shortz, and said that the cause of Mr. Paddock's death was paralysis.

Janesville people will remember Paddock as one of the former proprietors of the Hotel Myers, he having been associated with E. D. Miller in the management of that hostelry. He was a wholehearted, genial man, and made many friends while here. His health had been poor for a long time, and he had spent much time and money seeking relief. He was at Mount Clemens for some time, but later went to Battle Creek, where his demise occurred.

Dennis J. Concannon. As was briefly announced in Saturday night's paper, Dennis J. Concannon died at Denver, Col., Saturday morning. The sad news came by telegraph to G. A. Proctor, but no particulars were received. Mr. Concannon was afflicted with consumption, and had hoped that the air of the western state might benefit him. But it was not to be. Mr. Concannon made Janesville his home for many years, and was a universal favorite. His death will be sincerely mourned by many friends and acquaintances in the Bower City. The remains will be interred at Denver.

Starr Evans, the six months old child of Mr. and Mrs. Willis W. Evans, died at 12 o'clock last night, at their home, No. 2 Vernon avenue, of cholera infantum. Funeral services will be held from the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, the interment to be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Mrs. William Bates. The remains of Mrs. William Bates arrived in the city this noon from Chicago, and were taken direct to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. Brief services were conducted by Rev. Dr. Sabin Halsey.

Catherine Ryder. Mr. and Mrs. John Ryder, 158 South Franklin street, are mourning the death of their little daughter, Catherine, who passed away Saturday afternoon at the tender age of six months.

OTHER DEATHS IN THE COUNTY

FOUGHT WITH DEATH AT INDIAN FORD

EDGERTON MAN'S NARROW ESCAPE THIS MORNING.

James Harrison's Horse Got Off the Track While Forging the River and Into the Deep Water—Animal Was Drowned—Man Had a Close Call.

James Harrison battled with death in the river at Indian Ford early this morning, and finally reached the shore, but in an exhausted condition.

Harrison lives at Edgerton and works for the Edgerton Creamery Company. He had been in this city on business yesterday, and left for home, overlaid, after the storm last night. He reached Indian Ford at 1 o'clock this morning, and started to cross the river at the ford that had been laid out since the bridge was torn up. One of the wires that marked the course had gotten down, however, and before Harrison realized what had happened, his horse had gotten off the track and was floundering about in the deep water. Harrison got clear of the buggy and started to swim ashore. He finally succeeded in reaching shallow water but was completely exhausted from his struggle in the dark. The horse was drowned, and the town of Fulton settled with Harrison this morning, by paying him for the animal.

The river is higher than it has been for some time, making the current stronger than usual.

Don't trifle away time when you have cholera morbus or diarrhoea. Fight them in the beginning with DeWitt's Colic and Cholera cure. You don't have to wait for results. They are instantaneous and it leaves the bowels in healthy condition. C. D. Stevens.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1672—John and Cornelius de Witt, Dutch statesmen, murdered by a mob at The Hague.

1810—Count Camillo Benso di Cavour, Italian statesman, born in Turin; died there 1861.

1861—General Nathaniel Lyon, the hero of the west in 1861, killed at the battle of Wilson's Creek; born 1819. General Lyon fell while leading the attack upon a strong body of the enemy. He went so near the Confederates that he and the aids accompanying him recognized the leaders of the opposing force. His body fell into the hands of the enemy and was restored to his friends through the efforts of a lady residing near the field. It was embalmed and finally entombed at his birthplace in Connecticut.

1868—Adah Isaacs Menken, noted actress and equestrienne, died in Paris; born in New Orleans 1835.

1892—Overthrow of the Salisbury government in England by a "no confidence" vote of 350 to 310, the largest ever cast on that motion.

MR. DANA'S STATEMENT.

At the request of members of both political parties The Gazette reproduces Charles A. Dana's personal statement regarding the presidential campaign. Mr. Dana is a democrat of democrats and the acknowledged doyen of American journalism. His declaration, published at the head of the New York Sun's editorial page on his return from Europe, made a great sensation. It read as follows:

"Some personal response seems to be due to the numerous friends who have sought from me an expression of my individual opinion as to the duty in the present political campaign of those who adhere to the principles which hitherto have characterized the democratic party.

"The declaration of notions adopted in the name of democracy by the Chicago convention is for the most part so hostile to the doctrines which have prevailed in the democratic party in the past, as to demand its rejection by all those who would not abandon the democracy's essential ideas and best traditions.

"The Chicago platform invites us to establish a currency which will enable a man to pay his debts with half as much property as he would have to use in order to pay them now. This proposition is dishonest. I do not say that all the advocates of the free coinage of silver are dishonest. Thousands of them, millions, if there be so many, are doubtless honest in intention. But I am unable to reconcile with any ideal of integrity a change in the law which will permit a man who has borrowed a hundred dollars, to pay his debt with a hundred dollars each one of them is worth only half as much as each dollar he received from the lender.

"The Chicago platform sanctions the use of the appointing power of the president in such a way as to control the Federal judiciary in deciding questions of constitutional law. It contemplates a change in the personnel of the Supreme Court of the United States to the end that the recent decision declaring the income tax unconstitutional may be reversed. Strange times, indeed, are these, when a man is told that in order to be a democrat he must favor the imposition of an income tax, and the destruction of the independence of the judiciary!

"Still more alarming is the clearly implied approval of lawless violence contained in the denunciation of what is denominated in the platform 'government by injunction.' Viewed in the language of moderation, the wild light of anarchy shines through.

"In my opinion, without reviewing the Chicago platform further, the declarations in regard to the currency, the supreme court, and the income tax, and the repression of forcible lawlessness by the aid of injunctions, are enough to demand its rejection by all good citizens and the defeat of the candidates who stand upon it.

"I regret exceedingly to find a disposition quite prevalent to array the west against the east in the discussion of these matters. I see no occasion for making our differences sectional. Here there is no political hostility toward the west, such as is expressed toward the east by some western newspapers and public speakers. Good citizens can perhaps best aid the cause of honest money and law and order by devoting more time to rational argument and less to inefficient abuse.

"All questions relating to the tariff have become insignificant for the time being, in view of the possibility, however slight, that the abhorrent principles of the Chicago platform may prevail. The duty and the necessity to compass the final overthrow of that platform by assisting in the defeat of William J. Bryan are most imperative and solemn. This may most certainly be accomplished by voting for the electors pledged to the support of William McKinley; but I have no quarrel with any democrat who adopts any other course which seems to him equally well adapted or better adapted to the same end. C. A. DANA.

Most Appropriate.

A Stayer.

"You remind me so strongly of a lady's watch," Miss De Smith concluded when young Mr. Featherly had forgotten for ever and ever so long how late it had got to be.

"Because—" he hesitatingly began.

"It never is going," explained Miss De Smith, in clear, incisive accents.

But that wound him up again.—N. Y. Recorder.

SAVED FROM DEATH BY TWO BRAVE MEN

CLOSE CALL FOR A DROWNING
LAST NIGHT.

Washington Barriage and John McGinley rescued an unknown man and woman—McGinley loses his watch in the river—Woman overturned his boat.

Washington Barriage and John McGinley saved a man and a woman from a watery grave, last night.

The rescued pair were profuse in their thanks, but words do not go very far in replacing the watch that McGinley lost in rescuing them.

The names of the people who owe their lives to McGinley and Barriage, are unknown.

McGinley and Barriage were coming down the river in their boat, about 10 o'clock. When near the People's Ice Company's house, they heard shrill calls for help. One voice was that of a woman, and the other a man's.

"Help! I cannot swim!" the man was calling.

"Pull over that way," said Barriage to McGinley, who was at the oars. McGinley complied, and the boat sped toward a dark object that was floating on the water ahead of them.

Rescuers' Boat Tipped Over

As they neared the object, they saw that it was an overturned boat. The man was clinging to the boat, while the girl was floundering about calling lustily for aid. Seeing that the man was safe, McGinley turned the bow of the boat toward the woman and rowed as hard as he could. As the boat sped by her, Barriage leaned over the side of the craft, and caught hold of the young lady. She was greatly excited, and in her struggles, threw her weight onto the side of the boat.

In an instant the craft was overturned and there were four people in the water instead of two. Barriage bravely kept his hold on the young lady and swam to the shore with her, McGinley helping him.

McGinley's Watch Gone.

McGinley and Barriage then secured their own boat and bailing it out rescued the man who was still hanging on the overturned craft in midstream.

The capsized boat was then righted and the couple, after thanking their rescuers, got into it and rowed away. McGinley's watch was in the pocket of his vest, which was lying on the bow of the boat. When the craft was overturned by the girl, the time-piece and the vest sank from sight. The oar-locks from the boat are also at the bottom of the river. An effort was being made this afternoon to recover the watch by diving, but the chances for finding it are small, as the exact spot where the tip-over occurred, cannot, of course, be located.

The man and woman did not give their names, and were strangers to the two men who risked their lives to save them. Their boat was capsized by striking a stump.

HORSE KICKED ED. E. JOHNSON.

Gash Cut in His Knee That Will Lay Him Up For Some Time.

Edwin E. Johnson is now confined to his bed as the result of being kicked by a horse. Mr. Johnson, who is a clerk at the St. Paul freight house, was out for a drive Saturday evening when the horse became unmanageable, and after kicking the dash board to pieces, landed one of his feet against Mr. Johnson's left knee cutting a gash that penetrated to the bone. Dr. E. F. Woods dressed the injury. It will be some time before he can be at work again. The horse afterward ran into a fence and was caught.

It has been asked why the Scotch games are so immensely superior to all other similar events? The answer is, liberal prizes, experienced management, the best of talent, novel attractions, and a reputation for giving only good, clean entertainments, entirely free of all objectionable features. The Caledonian Society deserve credit and support for inaugurating these annual healthful outings.

THERE are in every town, some young people who are interested in obtaining for themselves a collegiate or musical education, and yet who are undecided where to go to obtain these privileges at a reasonable expense. If there are any such in Janesville Mrs. Bintliff will be glad to give them full information regarding Olivet College and Conservatory. She will be at the Hotel Myers for that purpose on Tuesday and Wednesday, August 11 and 12, from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

MUST LAY A SEWER TO CHOKE A SMELL

HEALTH OFFICER, TO TALK TO ALDERMEN.

Nuisance That Makes Life On River Street a Burden Cannot Be Done Away With In Any Other Manner—Gunpowder Ordinance to Come Up.

Health Officer Gibson will go before the council tonight, and tell the city fathers what must be done to do away with the able bodied smell that makes the air so thick about the west side fire station. For a long time past this sewer has been a source of much annoyance. It now empties into the raceway, and the sewerage floats down against the iron grating in front of the engine house. Here a large portion of it stops, and the balance goes under the buildings and down to the river via the raceway, and the water wheels. The complaints made have been many and vehement, but Health Officer Gibson has been powerless. He will now recommend that the opening into the raceway be closed, and that the sewer be run down River street to Dodge. This, he says, is the only practical remedy.

In all probability there will be no very important business done by the council tonight. The gunpowder ordinance will come up as advertised, but what action will be taken remains to be seen.

BOLD ROBBER RAIDED THE VANETTA HOME

BURGLARS EFFECTED AN ENTRANCE THIS MORNING.

Mrs. A. O. Vincent Was Awakened By the Man Who Was Feeling Under Her Pillow For Valuables—She Screamed and He Bolted Through the Open Window.

Burglars raided the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Vanetta on South Main street early this morning, but made their escape when an alarm was given.

The work was done about 3 o'clock. Entrance was effected at a window, and when the robber got inside the residence, he began a search for valuables. Mrs. A. O. Vincent, mother of Mrs. Vanetta, was awakened by something brushing against her face, and when she opened her eyes, was startled to see a man standing beside the bed, and feeling under the pillow. In so doing he had brushed his head over her face thus arousing her. She screamed for help as soon as she realized the situation and the thief bolted from the room and jumped from the window that he had entered. There is no clue to the robber and as far as is known, no plunder was secured. In the municipal court this morning the case of the state against George Moran and Willie Frooks was, by consent, adjourned until August 15, at 9 o'clock a. m.

HORSE BEAT THE STEAMBOAT.

M. J. McCue's Trotter Reached Crystal Springs Before the Boat Did.

The steamer Columbia failed to beat M. J. McCue's trotter to Crystal Springs Park yesterday afternoon, and the result was, Captain Buchholz forfeited five dollars. The steamer left the railroad bridge at 4:05 o'clock, and the agreement was that the boat was to arrive at the dock before McCue did. The trotter was on the spot just as the boat arrived, but the steamer was going too fast to make a landing, consequently, McCue won. By water, the distance is three miles. The horse made the five miles, by the road, in eighteen minutes.

Her Impression.
Papa (just arrived from downtown)—Well, where's Bessie? Why isn't she running to meet me, as usual?
Mamma—Bessie has been naughty and disobedient. I have had to deprive her of her playthings, and she has been weeping bitter tears in her own room for the last half hour.
Voice of Bessie (from adjoining room)—Tears ain't bitter! They're salt!
Chicago Tribune.

Knew Her Manners.
"It was shocking to see the way Miss Babbie whispered," said Maud.
"Yes," replied Mamma. "If she had any breeding at all she would know it is impolite to whisper in company. I never think of doing such a thing."
"Neither do I. If I have anything to say that I don't want to have overheard I wait until somebody gets up to sing or play the piano."—Washington Star.

Matter of Importance.
The smile of rejoicing upon her lips dies. The shade of soul agony comes in her eyes.
She is asking herself if the fates have been kind.
And kept her skirt and her shirt waist together behind.

Applied at the Wrong Place.
Miss Kissam—You seem depressed to-night, Mr. Dexter.
Mr. Dexter—Yes, I am. I want to a fortune teller to-day to find out my fate, and was told that the girl I loved would not marry me.
Miss Kissam—But, Mr. Dexter, no fortune teller is authorized to speak for me.—Detroit Free Press.

Heartless Man.
"If women have not finer sensibilities than men," asked the defender of her sex, "then why is it that men laugh and women weep at a wedding?"
"Because they are not the ones who are getting married," answered the coarse, heartless man.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Stainless Cloth.
Jinks—I called at your boarding house to-day and saw the table neatly set for dinner, and I must say things looked very neat. I never saw a whiter tablecloth in my life.
Binks—No, she doesn't make her tea, coffee, or soup strong enough to stain.—N. Y. Weekly.

Knew How to Keep a Hotel.
Great Traveler—I never saw prettier girls in my life than you have right here in this dining-room waiting on tables.
Sharp Hotel-Keeper—I always get pretty waiters. Men don't eat much when a pretty girl is watching them.—N. Y. Weekly.

Surely.
"Tommy is such a sweet child," said a doting mother, "that I often think it will be a miracle if he lives to grow up."
"It will," said the candid neighbor, with a baleful gleam in his eye.—Detroit Free Press.

Could Not Help It.
Radbowen—I don't think Jerkleigh would hesitate in telling a lie.
Chesney—Yes, he would.
Radbowen—What makes you think so?
Chesney—He has to. He stutters.—N. Y. World.

Diplomatic.
Mr. Pollitix—That wretch Jorkins is telling awful lies about me.
Mrs. Pollitix—Why don't you dare him to prove his charges?
Mr. Pollitix—Well, I'm not such a fool as that.—Town Topics.

Should Stay Together.

Assignee Sale
STATE OF WISCONSIN, CIRCUIT COURT FOR ROCK COUNTY. In the matter of the assignment of Mary N. Crossett, assignor, to W. T. Vankirk, assignee.
Whereas, on the 5th day of August, 1896, an order was entered in the above entitled action in the Circuit Court for Rock County, directing the undersigned, such assignee, to offer for sale and sell at public auction, in the city of Janesville, the real estate hereinafter described said sale to be made for cash to the highest bidder therefor.
Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that on Wednesday, the 23d day of September, 1896, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Janesville, county of Rock and State of Wisconsin, the undersigned W. T. Vankirk as such assignee will offer for sale and sell at public auction, to the highest bidder therefor, the property directed to be sold in and by the order of sale above mentioned, and which said property is described as follows, to-wit:

A tract or parcel of land situated in the city of Janesville, County of Rock and State of Wisconsin, known and described as follows:
Beginning at a point in the center line of the wall between the post office building on lot number one (1) of the Janesville Water Power lots, and the flouring mill north of and adjoining said post office building extended in a straight line westerly three and one-half (3 1/2) feet from the westerly side of the west wall of said post office building to said flouring mill; thence northerly parallel with the westerly wall of said flouring mill to the north line of the south one-fourth (1/4) of lot number three (3) of said Janesville Water Power lots; thence easterly on the north line of the south one-fourth (1/4) of said lot three (3) and that line extended to the center of Rock River; thence south on the center line of Rock River to the north line of land conveyed by Oliver C. Ford, Abbie A. Ford his wife, Marietta F. Ford, Mary N. Crossett and Benjamin F. Crossett to said William S. Jeffris and Malcomb G. Jeffris by deed, dated October 13th, 1884, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for said Rock County on the 15th day of October, a. c. 1884 in volume 10 of deeds on page 22, extended parallel to the northerly line of Milwaukee street to the center of Rock River; thence westerly on said north line extended as aforesaid to the westerly line of said land so conveyed by the said Oliver C. Ford, Abbie A. Ford, Marietta F. Ford, Mary N. Crossett and Benjamin F. Crossett to said William S. Jeffris and Malcomb G. Jeffris as aforesaid; thence southerly on the westerly line of said land to the center line of the wall between the post office building and the flouring mill north of and adjoining said post office building extended in a straight line easterly to said land so conveyed to said William S. Jeffris and Malcomb G. Jeffris, as aforesaid; thence westerly on the center line of said wall and that line ended as aforesaid to the place of beginning.

Also, right to carry up and build a wall between said post office building and said flouring mill high enough to permit the said Mary N. Crossett, her heirs and assigns, to construct said flouring mill one story higher than it now is, provided in case said wall shall be by the said Mary N. Crossett, her heirs and assigns, carried up a constructed higher than it now is, the title to the half of such new wall shall, on the construction thereof, vest in and become the property of Oliver C. Ford, his heirs and assigns.
Also the right, the perpetual use of four hundred square feet of water to be drawn from the pond of the upper water power in said city of Janesville, the race leading from said pond to the flouring mill above mentioned, under the head of four feet, or water sufficient under any other great head to produce the power produced by the race leading from said pond to the flouring mill, and the water power used in connection therewith, and all machinery, fixtures, and the like, said mill.

GIRLS' CLOTHING.

Mother Hubbards For Very Little Ones.
Simple and Easily Washed.

Summer frocks for little girls are made of white or colored pique, openwork or embroidered batiste, pink and blue flowered lawns, barge, thin crepon, fancy alpaca, Scotch plaid delaines, foulard and light toned taffeta either striped, printed or plaid.

The style of making depends upon the age of the child. From the time she can walk up to 4 years old the Mother Hubbard form is preferred—that is, a straight skirt mounted on a yoke of greater or less depth, no belt or sash being worn. This is doubtless the most healthful as well as the most convenient style, as it leaves the body entirely free. These little loose gowns are easily washed and ironed, moreover, and immaculate cleanliness should be an invariable rule in the care and clothing of children. It is better to clothe them in simple percales and have a daily change for them than to put expense into silk, lace and embroidery and stint the laundry bill.

For girls 4 to 8 years of age the frock may have a loose bodice to which the short skirt is attached. When thick goods are employed, the skirt may be laid in plaits instead of being gathered, but it does not need to be gored or stiffened. Beyond the age of 8 the costume may more nearly approximate to that of a young woman—that is, the skirt may be gored, the bodice may come a little closer to the figure and less simple trimming may be employed. Of course, much depends upon the physical development of the child. Some girls are so large at 12 that they look awkward in childish clothing, and the attempt to keep them infantile is fatuous. Others are, in appearance, little girls at 17. As a general rule, although youthful simplicity may safely and tastefully be maintained up to the age of 20 years, it is better to lengthen the skirt too early than too late, because the half grown girl is not usually very graceful and requires all the assistance toward repose of manner that clothing can give her.

The cut shows a neat sailor frock for a little girl of 6 years. It is of navy blue serge and has two bands of white braid around the foot of the skirt, the latter being mounted on a cambric underbodice. The straight, short jacket is cut in squares around the lower edge and is bordered with one band of braid. The plastron and collar are of white etamine and the blue sleeves have white cuffs to match.

NEW SKIRTS.

The English Woman's Shoes and the Frenchwoman's Aprons.

It is predicted that before very long skirts will be left open in front or at the sides to show an underskirt of a different color and material. It may be covered with flat applications, passementerie or plaitings of mousseline de soie, but in any case will contrast with the outside skirt.

Valencienne insertion is largely used on skirts as well as bodices, being arranged regularly in lengthwise bands.

English women have gone in for fancy colored shoes, not merely tan and brown shades. Dark blue leather is seen, and buckles and embroidery are lavishly employed. Nevertheless there still remain the usual reasons why an English woman's footwear should be as inconspicuous as possible.

Frenchwomen are fond of ornamental aprons for home wear, the arranging of flowers or dusting of bric-a-brac serving as an excuse for donning them. They are of muslin, foulard, taffeta or tussore silk and are much trimmed with lace and bows. Some have bibs, others wide collars, still others bretelles. The bib serves as an excuse for displaying ornamental pins. Aprons of Scotch plaid silk are very pretty and effective over plain gowns.

The fancy for white costumes continues with unabated vigor. Muslin, gauze, lawn, pique, crepe, crepon and foulard each form charming gowns of the season. The various tones of white are often combined together, yellow white lace on pure white goods being considered particularly taking. White satin with ceru linen and lace is also much admired.

Today's sketch shows a gown of gray alpaca. The skirt forms godets behind and is mounted in large plaits at the side. In front and at each side of the back it opens over fans of plaited white linen. The close bodice has a short basque and opens over a guimpe of guipure framed in a white linen fichu, tied in front with a bow and coquilles. The close alpaca sleeves have a short drapery at the top and are finished at the wrist by frills of linen.

DESERVING POOR THEORY.

A Rather Disheartening Experience With a "Literary Man."

I remember once, at a time when I made daily use of the reading-room of the British Museum—a magnificent communistic institution of the best type—I was offered 2 pounds to copy a certain book or manuscript, I forget which, says the Contemporary Review. Too lazy to think of doing the work myself, I handed over the commission to a man whose respectable poverty would have moved a heart of stone—an ex-schoolmaster, whose qualifications were out of date, and who, through no particular fault of his own, had drifted into salvation army shelters; he was a sober, well-spoken, well-conducted, altogether unobjectionable man, really fond of reading and eminently eligible for a good turn of the kind I did him. His first step in the matter was to obtain from me an advance of 5 shillings; his next, to sublet the commission to another person in similar circumstances for 1 pound 15 shillings, and so get it entirely off his mind and return to his favorite books.

This second, or rather, third party, however, required an advance from my acquaintance of 1 shilling and 6 pence, to buy paper, having obtained which, he handed over the contract to a fourth party, who was willing to do it for 1 pound 13 shillings and 6 pence. Speculation raged for a day or two as the job was passed on, and it reached bottom at last in the hands of the least competent and least sober female copyist in the room, who actually did the work for 5 shillings and then turned it into a handsome investment by making it an excuse for borrowing endless sixpences from me to the day of her death, which each sixpence probably accelerated to the extent of fourpence, and staved off to the extent of twopence. She was not a deserving person; if she had been she would have come to no such extremity. Her claims to compassion were that she could not be depended on, could not resist the temptation to drink, could not bring herself to do her work carefully, and was therefore at a miserable disadvantage in the world—a disadvantage exactly similar to that suffered by the blind, the deaf, the maimed, the mad, or any other victims of imperfect or injured faculty. I learned from her that she had once been recommended to the officials of the Charity Organization society, but they, on inquiring into her case, had refused to help her because she was "undeserving," by which they meant that she was incapable of helping herself. Here was surely some confusion of ideas. She was very angry with the society, and not unreasonably so, for she knew that their funds were largely subscribed by people who regarded them as ministers of pity to the poor and downcast. On the other hand, these people themselves had absurdly limited the application of their bounty to sober, honest, respectable persons, that is to say, to the persons least likely to want it, and most apt to be demoralized by the gift.

Seventeenth Century Superstitions.

That it is a very unfortunate thing for a man to meet early in a morning an ill-favored man or woman, a rough footed Hen, a shaghaired Dogge, or a blacke Cat. That it is a signe of death to some in that house where crickets have bin many years, if on a sudden they forsake the Chimney Corner. That if a man dream of eggs or fire, he shall heare of anger. That to dreame of the devil is good lucke. That to dreame of gold good lucke, but of silver ill. That if a man be born in the daytime, he shall be unfortunate. That if a child be born with a Caule on his head, he shall be very fortunate. That when the palme of the right hand itcheth, it is a shrewd sign he shall receive money. That it is a great signe of ill lucke, if Rats gnaw a mans clothes. That it is naught for any man to give a paire of Knives to his sweetheart, for feare it cuts away all love that is between them. That it is ill lucke to have the saltseller fall toward you.—Notes and Queries.

Takes Care of The Babies.

A Germantown woman who is in reduced circumstances has hit upon a novel scheme for earning a livelihood which has worked very successfully. A number of her married female acquaintances who are anxious to pose as society women, but whose financial circumstances will not admit of the luxury of nurses, readily engage her services when they wish to attend teas and other social functions. She charges 60 cents an hour for looking after the children in the absence of their mothers, and it is said that her services are in demand to such an extent as to render necessary the booking in advance.

What a great quantity of work a "good house-keeper" finds to do! There are so many little time-and-strength-taking chores that have no names, if a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world. But how different when every breath is pain, every step torture! This state of health, in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examination." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Excepting in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures safely, permanently.
